The folks at BitTemp Entertainment have been musing about how to improve Tetris for several years. Well-deserved for an A.I. tutor no less.

"While working on automated self-taught learners, and next generation Brain Technologies, we also looked at making a new gem in a genre we love, music making. Groove Coaster is loosely based on the Tetris Effect 2 game. But it takes place on a musical world, and the goal is to score just

You're in a beautiful garden. It must be nice to get a couple of hours of calm before the storm. There's a gust of wind, and you're driven to the shelter of your house. You're not alone in your home, though. In this game, you live in a house with your roommates. They're going through some troubles, too. It's your job to help them out! Your house is on fire! Run! Run! Help your roommates! Help them save their house. If you want to get into the "home" atmosphere, you can pick the easiest difficulty and check the "no fire" mode. From what we understand, it'll be a bit different without the house burning to the ground. But that might be a bit too easy for you. There's some other tips for you to consider here, so read on! Two worlds of Stickman - Now you have a second world of Stickman. You can go on "swampy-forest" with your friend "Pup" and play in the "boss-fight" mode! This is where you'll find your whole experience in Stickman. The goal of the game is to take down all the bosses and protect the house. You will need to do many things like eat the food, collect the bananas, avoid the wasps and spiders, as well as staying alive. Your friends are not living there, so you need to think of their well-being, too. There's a lot more you can do on your own, with no help, but there will be other people in the game and you will get in some trouble if you use too much energy or if you don't run fast enough. There's no set path, though. You can either go forward or back, turn left or right, and you can even jump. There's no penalty if you're "cut" and you're not forced to restart, but when you die, you need to save. So make sure that you save often! The stickman team will keep you up to date with new features and there's always plenty of progress to get excited about. You are one of the first to play the "tutorial" for the "castle-tutorial". You will also get an introduction to the different "rooms" in the house. The different rooms will be explored, along with how to save and restart, and you will have the chance to experience the traps as well. As long as you're not too impatient, the first and second worlds

What's new in Carnivores: Dinosaur Hunter Reborn:

debut atop Oculus Rift and Touch in December. Million Dollar Baby Kaleena was released from prison where she'd been locked up after eighteen months. At twenty years old, she had aged perceptibly in the short period she'd been incarcerated, though it had been a few years since she'd graduated high school. Her long, stringy hair had turned grey and thinned, and the springy muscles of her chest and abs had withered. But it was her face that was the most captivating, with sensual lips, high cheekbones and deeply set, glittering eyes. Kaleena often thought of her 13-year-old daughter, who she'd never met. She hadn't held her daughter in the eight years she'd been in prison. She sat on the edge of the bed, looking down at the notes she had scribbled from their conversation. "I said it before, but not like this. No more treatments, not pills, nothing. No." "I can dig it." "No, you can't." "You have a chance here. I'm talking a lead-off role, the lead bitch in something new. I have a case that's coming down the pike next week. A one-oh-seven to prove somebody killed a cop." "The Taker. The one that got the best of you." "Yeah. And the grieving mother is going to be an upstanding citizen - she's going to put up the same kind of money that good lawyer you went to last time." "What?" "She's going to put up a million dollars to bail you out." "I couldn't give a shit about the money! I got bills just to pay." She pulled out her cell phone and quickly scrolled to the call list. She minimized it without looking. "I have an idea. How about since I get out and you go back to rehab?" "No way, Jose!" "It's a beautiful thing that you can stick it up your ass. You turn into the model you've always wanted." "Damn you, Bray. You know what it does to me to run out. You know I couldn't hold on." "I know that. And what I know is that you're not the only woman in the population who's capable of leading. You've just never met
